COVID-19 College Update
4.8.20
Pass/fail and withdraw deadlines

Dear student:

Everyone in the College hopes that you and your family are staying healthy. This is a reminder that an important academic deadline is coming up.

Next Monday, April 13, is the last day of the spring 2020 semester on which you will be able to change the grade type of a course (to pass/fail or from pass/fail back to normal grading); it is also the last day on which you can withdraw from a course if you need to.

For information on how to do either, in addition to answers to many other important questions related to the current situation, please go to the College's COVID-19 response page:
